My dear Sir

As I am impudent enough not to make any apology for having kept you 2 vols of the Gent Mag. so long, you will not wonder at my confidence in asking you also to lend & send (by the Parrel, Dely Compz) me the Vol which contains the Marriage Licence of William Shakespeare

William Jackson contains the manuscript copy of the last letter in which you also have written out my confidence that to day, you will not forget a part of the first copy for having left

and any other communication to the Editor upon from Mr Wheeler or others the subject. I fear web vol. they are in.

I have printed my Introduct. History of the Stage to the time of Shakespeare, and I am now on the point of sending away the "Life". I am therefore anxious to save myself one or more journeys with my papers to the Brit.
Museum.

Pray pardon this trouble: if I did not think you would, you would not have heard from me.

Yrs most sincerely
J. Payne Collier

and every other common the subject. I feel out. They are in.

I have found out nothing. History of the

point of finishing away
anxious to have myself one or more journals and my paper to the best.

Very friendly thoughts. I do not think
have been from here.
